JANUARY HIGHLIGHTS

Holiday Make-n-Take | 12/5 6:00-8:00 Join doTERRA wellness advocate, Emily Cagwin for a fun evening making a delicious holiday room spray or hand sanitizing spray that will make your holidays even more delightful! Emily will also spend some time discussing how essential oils can work to boost your mood and immune system. Find some inspiration for your gift-giving this year and learn more about integrating essential oils into your daily life. $5 fee for supplies. Register and pay online.

Winter is Coming: A Festival of Fantasy and Fiction | 12/8 10:00-4:00 Be greeted by fairys and enjoy a day of dragons, wizards & other magical creatures. This day-long event will have artists, Mara Carlini, Lele Morris and Larry Klukaszewski; and authors Joshua David Bellin, AK Downing, Donald Firesmith and Jim Rugg. There will be a magic wand demonstration, a mandala workshop, ornament decorating & a unique holiday bookstore from Riverstone Books. Free and open to the public; no registration necessary. Family friendly with activities for all ages throughout the library!

Nuttin' But the Truth: Nonfiction Book Club | 12/10 11:00-12:00 Cooper-Siegel's newest book club! For lovers of nonfiction! History, memoir, science, philosophy! We're getting at the truth! Real stories and real people, places and animals in all genres! Copies of this month's book (The Soul of an Octopus) are available at the reference desk- stop by to get yours. Please register online - space is limited as we meet in the Reading Room.
