MARCH HIGHLIGHTS

Remarkable Relics: Local History  Tuesdays this month enjoy highlights of local museums and history spots like Heinz, The Lincoln Highway Experience, Fort Pitt Museum and The McKeesport History and Heritage Center. All brought to you by The Heinz History Museum!

Pittsburgh Technology Council CEO, Audrey Russo 3/15 | 7:00-8:00  Join Audrey Russo, President and CEO of Pittsburgh Technology Council for a Q&A on the state of technology, startups and innovation in Pittsburgh. Librarian Kelley Beeson will have a series of juicy questions for Ms. Russo and audience participation, questions and discussion will be encouraged! Learn more about where the technology industry in Pittsburgh is at and where it's going!

SWPA Environmental Health: Fracking 3/18 | 7:00-8:00  Join Dr. Ketyer, consultant for the SWPA Environmental Health Project as he discusses his work around the rapid expansion of shale gas and petrochemical development in the Ohio River Valley and the local and regional health impacts currently experienced by residents. He also address the global ecologic and public health catastrophes resulting from plastic pollution and climate change that threaten the health and well-being of everyone globally.

Rachel Carson's EcoVillage 3/25 | 7:00-8:30  Learn more about this cool and groundbreaking project happening right here in Pittsburgh! The Rachel Carson EcoVillage is a multi-generational community that includes young families, retiring boomers and people from as many cultures and backgrounds as possible. It's located 20 miles north of Pittsburgh in Gibsonia on Chatham University's Eden Hall campus, the home of the Falk School of Sustainability and Environment. There they plan to create opportunities to participate in campus activities, have access to campus amenities and be able to contribute to the university's advancement of sustainability.

Take-n-Make Kits for Everyone!  Every month, CSCL and Sharpsburg will have a variety of Take-n-Make kits available to pick up for adults, teens, families and little ones. Check our website calendar for the details on when and how to get them!
