

Join us on a rich content ride every Thursday this summer.
It's going to be better than last year, that's for sure!

SPOTIFY PLAYLISTS

For the 12 weeks of summer, we'll share a summer playlist of 12 songs made by one of our very own library staff. This week, enjoy Megan's Sun, Fun and the Kiddos Playlist.

JUST TRY IT: 2 THINGS TO TRY

1 I bet you never read poetry. But this one might get you into it.
Billy Collins' Downpour.

2 Take a walk! No really – just walk out the door and go for a bit! Read about how it's REALLY good for you HERE!

Every week this summer, enjoy a quick 1-minute review of a book, movie, TV show or album by one of our Media Squad members. We're a group of passionate library staffers who love nothing more than chatting about our recent media likes and dislikes. Our mission is to inspire tons of media consumption and match the right media with the right person. Find this week's review HERE.

A GREAT APP TO CHECK OUT: AUDM

Listen to longform journalism you don't have time to read. Get access to stories from dozens of top publishers. Read by world-class narrators. Read more here and find it on Google Play or the iTunes app store.

LIBRARY STUFF TO ENJOY AT HOME

Enjoy some of our coolest resources from home! CreativeBug offers thousands of art and craft classes and our newest e-resource for Cooper-Siegel and Sharpsburg card holders only: NYTimes Digital Access! Get a 24-hour pass to read the full NYTimes at home HERE. You can request a code any time!

THE PRONOUN THEY

Try using the singular THEY (it'll feel weird at first, but you'll get used to it). It can make a difference in someone's life. This BookRiot article: The History of and Future of Singular They by Chris M. Arnone sheds some light.

ROSE-BUD-THORN

Ever hear of Rose-Bud-Thorn? Basically, everyone shares a rose (a positive thing that happened that day), a thorn (a negative thing that happened that day) and a bud (something they're looking forward to). Try it with your friends and family tonight!
